Spectrum

Editor: Rina Takahashi

It's always a special moment when the new yearbook arrives. A great yearbook fills the reader with a passionate remembrance of a transcendent time. It's the canvas upon which are painted our most vivid memories of the school year just passed.

Thanks to the excellent and tireless efforts of Mr. Ross Murray, editor Rina Takahashi, and the rest of the Yearbook Committee, we have a fabulous production again this year.

Whether this is your first Spectrum, or your sixth (congratulations to Spartan Lifers Daniel Dumont, Will Huckins, Paul Teng and Chloe Van Dyke), I am certain that at some point you will look at these pages and realize that spending time at this school changed your life.

In addition to learning from great teachers, coaches and house directors across the curriculum, you developed resiliency and the ability to think critically. You learned how to adapt to change, to live, work and play with others, and how to make the most of new opportunities.

And you likely gained a good measure of self confidence along the way.

All of these skills are important, especially in the larger world that you, our new graduates, are now about to enter.

However, more than anything else, I hope that Stanstead College instilled within you a sense of empathy for others. Seeing the tremendous commitment many of you made to our community service program, Habitat for Humanity, the service learning projects in Vietnam and the countless causes that you raised funds for throughout the year, I would like to think that it did.

Elie Wiesel, the honoured and respected Holocaust survivor, Nobel Laureate and author of the book Night (that many of you read while at Stanstead) wrote: "The opposite of love is not hatred, it is indifference."

We cannot and we must not be indifferent to the plight of others. When we hear their cries, we need to take action and help.

You will continually be confronted by hard decisions about who you can lend assistance to, knowing full well there is no way that you can do it all.

But I hope that you will try, using the skills, knowledge and wisdom you honed here at Stanstead College, to make the right choices and to fight the battles worth fighting, without letting the odds deter you.

Sometimes the simple yet courageous decision of standing up for someone is all that it takes. Sometimes it is more than anyone else has ever done for that person. And it may just give them the hope and strength to carry on.

If Stanstead College has done anything towards helping you make that kind of decision, it will have been successful no matter what else has transpired.

We will miss you and hope that you will take note of the old saying: "Tides, once having ebbed, always come back."

I hope that you will be like those tides and come back to visit us often.

Best wishes to you all.

- Headmaster Michael Wolfe

A Message From The HEADMASTER

A Message From The HEAD PREFECTS

Now, as a prefect, I have been through some difficulties but I love being part of this community and thank you to all the prefects for working with me this year.

For graduating prefects, do not forget your kindness and helpfulness because there will be more people out there who might need your help.

From my Grade 11 year, my best memory is winning MacLeod tournament for the first time in Stanstead history. Wasn't easy, it was frustrating, but it was the most exciting moment of my life and I was proud of my teammates and also myself.

Talking about sports, you may realize that sports has been a big part of my life here at Stanstead. From the joining the junior soccer team, I played basketball and rugby. To be honest, I was scared and worried at first about playing these sports with people who are way taller and bigger than me. Especially in rugby. But in the end, I loved it so much. I don't just love playing these sports, I love being a part of the big team. Where all the players work together and support each other to achieve the same goal. The feeling of when we are lifting each other up. Winning games would not happen without each player and coaches' support. So, I want to say thank you to all teammates and the coaches who gave me the opportunities to be on the team and gave your best support.

This is when I found the second piece of my puzzle, support.

I already mentioned some of this piece but My last piece is family. You guys are my family. It does not matter how close you were with me. Every single person at Stanstead college is part of me and created 4 years of bright and wonderful memories.

Thank you to Mrs. Wolfe for being my mom at Stanstead. Thank you to Florence for being an incredible roommate and my best friend and thank you, Dixon and Saku for your kindness and your tutoring. Thank you to Alex, Karen, Sita and Jessica for growing up with me from the beginning until now. Thank you to everyone who cared about me and supported me.

Lastly, I want to say big thank you to my parent who supported me wherever I am and gave me this amazing opportunity in my life.

As we are graduating, none of us know what is waiting for us next year. But do not forget that you have friends, teammates, and teachers who you shared a moment to laugh, love and the moments they lift you up and you lift them up.

We all have to go our own ways but remember that you will forever have your own individual puzzle pieces that you can carry with you forever. I know I will.

With all my puzzle pieces, the final picture that it makes is every students, teammate, friend and family, surrounded in the heart, center of the campus with nothing but love.

To the graduating class of 2018, I wish you all the best and I love you guys all. Stanstead, thank you so much.

- Rina Takahashi

Nearly everyone has dreams. Whether you dream of being a pilot or curing cancer, all of you graduating today aspire to do something great with your lives. Of course the path will not be easy and there will be hurdles to climb but it is important not to lose sight of that end goal.

Let's flashback to my Grade 8 year quickly. I'm sitting in assembly one morning and Mr. Wolfe is handing out prefect pins for the school year. At the end of this he announces head prefects, one of which was my sister Emily or, as many of you know her, Ms. Norris. I was so proud and happy for her as she walked up and shook Mr. Wolfe's hand, and in the back of my mind I'm thinking, "Wow that's awesome, someday I want to be just like her." Right then and there I set a goal for myself and did my best to pursue it for the next four years and, well, here I am now talking to all of you.

All of us graduating here today have the drive and the capability to do something great with our lives if we simply set our minds to it and make an effort. I'm not standing here saying that it will be easy because it won't be but keep pushing and don't give up on that end goal. "Steven Spielberg was rejected from film school three times but he kept going. TV execs fired Oprah saying she was unfit for TV but she kept going." You are all capable of doing great things but to get there you must climb mountains and there is no such thing as a smooth mountain. There will be walls to climb over. However, if you persevere you will be able to scale that wall. Steven Spielberg is one of the greatest directors of all time and Oprah hosted one of the most popular talk shows for over 30 years. Every one of you sitting amongst me today is more than capable of doing the same if you keep going and never give up on that end goal.

Each and every one of us is lucky to be here and lucky to have the resources that we have and take for granted daily. Every year 2 million people die of dehydration while we are sitting here talking about whether the glass is half full or half empty. There's water in the cup. All of this to say make the most of this opportunity that has been handed to you. Each and every one of us has been given the gift of wealth as well as education. Go out and enjoy it, make new memories and make sure that one day the guest speaker up here speaking will be one of you telling your success stories.

Make the most of the gift that is life, go out there and enjoy it. Make all of these people around you proud of what you've been able to accomplish. Make the next generation look up to you, as I did my sister, and say, "One day I want to be just like them." I'll leave you with a quotation from Norman Vincent Peale: "Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you'll land among the stars."

- Will Huckins

Dear Stanstead,

First things first, thank you for saying YES to me four years ago. All my Stanstead life started with your simple answer.

I have a favorite quote from Ms. Hession that she said during the rugby season: "Every piece of a puzzle is important and it does not create a picture without every single piece."

So today, I want to share my pieces of my puzzle that I found at Stanstead College to create a picture of my experience here.

My first year, Grade 9, I remember wearing a new school uniform that was a little bit big for me, everyday having an ESL class with Yeming, Guyana, Mike and Selina. As an international student, I could not speak English very well when I stepped into this school for the first year. It was easy for me to stay in my room and talk with my friends back home, but it wasn't easy going outside and spend time with people who spoke different languages. But I also wanted to have fun with new people and place myself in an environment where I could learn new cultures and languages that I've never experienced before.

So I decided to join the junior girls soccer team. I wasn't the best player, I wasn't the funny person on the team but I was part of the team where I could use my body to communicate with others, so it was easier for me to reach out to others. It gave me opportunities to meet new people.

And during this soccer season, I met a girl, Chole Van Dyke who played the exact same sports each term that I did. First I was scared of her but she has given me confidence, and I feel comfortable when she is on the same field or court as me. So thank you for fighting through many obstacles with me for the last 12 seasons.

Joining the soccer team made me realized the importance of taking action, even if it is a small step. That was the first piece of my puzzle that I found, action. Nothing happens until I make a move.

Since then I have worked hard to improve my English and halfway through my Grade 10 year, I finally moved up and became a regular student like everybody else.

Before going into Grade 11, I had the chance to apply to become a prefect. I was not sure if I would become a great prefect but again, I reminded myself of the importance of taking action. Challenging something new.

Senior Girls

Soccer

The senior girls soccer team had a terrific year led by captains Florence Aube, Mackenzy St-Pierre and Chloe Van Dyke. Although the season started off slow with losses in our home tournament and two ties to start the regular season, the girls really came together at the CAIS tournament in St. John N.B. improving with every game they played. We finished in 7th out of 16 teams, and the girls continued their refined play back home taking them to the leagues semi-finals against Galt. The girls worked hard day in and day out and their improvement was incredible. Each and every girl should be proud of how hard they worked and how much their teamwork and soccer skills developed. That is all a coach can ask for in a season so thank you very much girls for a great first season.

"I love it when a plan comes together." The 2017 edition of the team reunited the coaching tandem of Doccy and myself (for the entire season) along with 24 keen young men with the goal of competing and hopefully doing some winning. There were two phases to our season, CAIS and ETIAC. At CAIS (Vancouver) we had high hopes, but were in pretty tough in our pool (CS, HSC, SAC) and managed only one win and four losses with 2GF and 21GA during the tournament. In ETIAC play, we did pretty well with 40GF and 15GA, but an early loss to BCS was tough to take when you analyze the stats of that day. Anyway, at that point, we reset our new goal: to meet and beat them (hopefully) in the playoff final. A subsequent tie with RR set up an interesting last week of the season. We still had an outside chance of winning the banner, but when we met BCS at their field on the Wednesday, we came so close, but lost 5-4. We ended the regular season on the Friday with a 1-0 win over AG. This set up the playoff semis: AG@SC which we won 2-0; MV@BCS which BCS won. And so, the match-up we had wanted was set for the playoff final game at BCS's home, Grant Field. It was a good and even game. Tied at regulation, the league rules then require a 10-minute golden goal period followed by pk's. About a minute into the sudden-death period, Will Huckins sent a beautiful ball over the BCS defenders and Keiran Gallant took care of it from there. Goal! ETIAC Playoff Champions! Trophy! Smiles! Pictures! Thanks to all for a good season. Special thanks to Doccy Standage, Peter Cai (head mgr), Justin Laforce (CAIS keeper) and all of the players who contributed to our eventual success.

Junior Girls Soccer

This was a unique year for the junior girls' soccer program. Before any of you even showed up for day one at the school, the coaching staff had multiple discussions internally to decide if we should even have a bantam girls program at all or go ahead and make one massive junior girls' team. You see, we knew that there would only be 8 of you who were bantam age. So we decided that we would go with the huge team and form two sub-teams within that big one: an A or "Red" Team and a B or "White" Team. We knew that one team would be competitive in league play and the other team would get crushed but that the practices would be far more beneficial to all. So we decided to put all 31 of you on one massive team with three coaches. The logic being that you would all improve and the experience would be beneficial for all and there would be far more team bonding among all 31 girls.

So, I have to tell you, this was one of my favourite seasons of coaching any team at Stanstead College. Thirty-one girls running around scrimmaging and doing drills and using every corner of the field. It was awesome to watch you all in action. We constantly mixed things up and tried to always match you up randomly in terms of skill and ability so you could learn from each other and improve as individual players and, more importantly, bond as teammates. You see, practice matters more to me than games. We practice on a lot more days than we play in games and the pressure of winning is non-existent in practice so we can have fun together.

Statistically, the "Red" team finished 3rd in the league and the "White" team finished 5th. The "Red" team had a strategy going into the playoffs to beat Massey Vanier (whom we had tied and lost to in the season). We came close. Our strategy almost worked. We lost 1-0 in a monsoon. Remember that game? Pouring rain. Biblical rain. Noah's flood rain. The "White" team all came to support. It was awesome. And a little crazy. And wet.

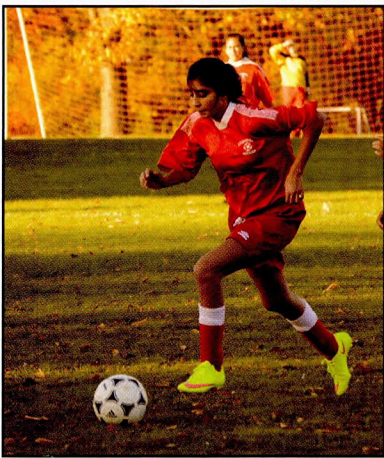

We did as well as we could and that's what Stanstead stands for.

One of the themes of my closing speech was that I did not get into high school coaching for the elitism of sport. If that was the case, we would have cut half of you and sent you to intramurals. Can you imagine? The sisterhood broken and the friendships and memories gone. There are more important things in sport than winning. I hope you remember that all your lives. I also spoke about how the little things matter. All the little things we do in practice and apply in games, but also you girls in grade 7 and 8 who are indeed "little things" that matter. I can't wait to coach you next year!

Thanks to coaches Smith and Benizri.

Thanks to Rosie who embodies the spirit of this team, to Mariama the bantam "S" winner, and Ana Sofia De La Barra - you are the bar!

Junior Boys Soccer

The junior boys soccer season was a very up and down type of season. The first few weeks saw us having a hard time keeping the ball out of our net. Playing each team in the league only twice, we knew that the second half of the season would have to be flawless to make the playoffs. With four games left in the season, I told the players we had to win two of four to give ourselves a chance. The first game was against a very skilled side from Salesien. Despite having a lead in the second half and limiting their chances, we dropped the game 3-2. Next was Massey-Vanier where the young men played extremely well and completely dominated the play. It was nice to see three Spartans get their first goals of the year. Going up against BCS, we knew that we would have to play an almost flawless game. Being behind by 3 at half, the young men never quit and were able to get two back and even hit a bar that would have given us the tie late in the game. Last game of the year, was at Galt and there was no longer any room for failure as we had to win in regulation time to qualify for the playoffs. Being up 2-1 at halftime and playing brilliantly, we were hopeful we would be able to hang on. With under five minutes to play, a Galt player scored a controversial goal that would ultimately seal our fate and eliminate us from playoff contention. Despite the disappointment, this group of young men improved so much in the second half of the season and would have been a force to reckon with had they been able to squeak into the playoffs.

Bantum Boys Soccer

This year, we were most impressed with the development of a number of players: in goals, Charles; at full back, Logan and Justin; in the mid-field, TK, Kieran, and Kevin Hu; up front, Gustavo. While these boys were working hard at learning the game and improving, there was a solid, veteran group (Sam, Dominic, Matthew and Marcello) who were responsible for helping, mentoring and providing leadership for the other boys. Really, they were able to play (and did play) various positions throughout the season. It is always a joy working with the bantam teams because they all learn so much in such a short amount of time. And, from the most part, even though we all like to win, the anguish of a loss seems to disappear quite quickly, especially if the next part of the day is going to McDonalds or Subway!

Sportsmanship & Bantam S: Dominic Pokora; Bantam S: Marcelo Santoscan

Cross-Country Running

While many of the athletes on the team didn't really share my love of running, what we did have were a lot of runners interested in showing improvement throughout the season, and some did. We participated in 4 ETIAC races and a select few also sacrificed their free time on weekends to participate in two optional RSEQ meets. Highlights of the season included: weekend trips to the RSEQ meets, where competition was tough and tension was high; interval and bodyweight training, everyone's favourite...; our bus breaking down on our first trip of the year, having an hour and a half long pit-stop at McDonald's; and of course Daniel's cross at the finish line at the finals at BCS, with the crowd cheering him on as he came around the corner walking... making him in fact, run, as he finished 10 minutes later than the second to last runner before him...but he finished in style!

My Outdoor Pursuits Experience

When most people think of outdoor pursuits, they think of an activity that isn't even a 'sport'. They think it's something that was made for people not good at sports, like me. Some have called it lame, pathetic or even sad. Outdoor pursuits may seem that way to you but not to me. When I think of outdoor pursuits, I think of family. I think of teamwork and motivation. I think of hard work. It takes skill to participate in these activities and it requires endurance. Outdoor pursuits for me was an opportunity to push myself, to wrestle nature and learn to enjoy the beauty of nature.

Outdoor pursuits was not easy. It did get hard, whether it was the four-hour hikes on Bald Mountain or trying not to fall off the slippery rocks in the beautiful rivers of Stanstead or the long hours of kayaking in Derby, Vt. It didn't take long for me to start feeling discouraged, tired, unenthusiastic and bored. I always felt down when I was at the back of the trail, or when everyone had to stop and wait for me to catch up or when I just wasn't fast enough. But none of these feelings lasted long. When I reached the top of the mountain, or the river bank or the end of the trail, these feelings were overcome with the feeling of achievement. And like we always say, 'The view at the end of the journey is worth the sweat.' That is true indeed.

Outdoor pursuits taught me more than just how to look out for poison ivy or how to survive a day in the woods or even talk to chipmunks. It taught me about life. The two months I spent with outdoor pursuits taught me that the race is never about how fast you go, but how far you go. I learnt the value of never giving up. There were hikes where I felt like dialling 911 to come pick me up, but with the support and motivation I received from my outdoor pursuits family, I always made it to the top. That's the thing about life. There are times when you feel like giving up or times when you'll feel others are better than you. But you can't let those feelings get to you. Push and push yourself beyond your limits because the view at the end of the journey is worth the sweat.

The curling program continued to expand this season. We had a record number of students try out for the sport, which resulted in our biggest team yet. Beginners made steady progress as the season continued. Notable season highlights included Coco Li being recognized as Athlete of the Week for her successful game against BCS early in the season. Also, Katya Li was given the Sportsmanship Award for her persistent enthusiasm and Morgan Ireland received her second consecutive Senior S. Finally, the SC Curling program awarded its first-ever Major S Sweater to Yeming Cheng for his fabulous season.

We are sorry to see several of our top players graduate, but encourage them to continue to curl in their future. We hope the team had as much fun curling this winter as we did.

We started the season with 4 girls and 14 boys, 4 of which were returning players. We welcomed new students who had different experience levels in racket sports although Squash was new to them. We had a good season together, which Miss Kirby and I enjoyed coaching. For another year, we managed to win the season's title against BCS, 3 competitions to 1. Congratulations to the winner of the sportsmanship award, Marcelo Santoscoy who, despite his young age, brought positive vibes throughout the whole season and to the winner of the Major S award, Pui Yuen Cheung who was our best player for the last two seasons.

Varsity Girls Hockey

We had a 64 game schedule this season. We went undefeated in our league and won the playoffs for the 3rd time in a row. Although we fell short in the big tournaments, we did have some pretty memorable wins this season, like our games against two of the top US prep schools, winning all of those games in true Stanstead College hockey fashion.

When you spend as much time as we do together you learn quite a bit, like: how big tournaments have tough schedules but locker room dance parties at 7:00am are the best way to prepare; refs need a refresher on the rules of a shootout; not to drink someone else's Starbucks; and how if we never see a Pita Pit again it will be too soon. Oh and we can't forget Tam's excitement is there was bacon at breakfast.

This season was a roller coaster of emotions, a season that has changed us all in one way or another. Negativity is unfortunately easy to fall into and can consume you over time; so for that reason I choose not to focus on the negativity but rather to embrace the positives of this group of girls. I choose to remember:

How Charlie and Alex came here lacking confidence and not really being sure who they were and leave us with a true sense of confidence in themselves, as leaders and with a voice.

Or girls like Rosie and Alexie who accepted that they needed to change and trusted us to help them get there, and today they are great leaders for their team and school and genuinely positive for the right reasons.

And there are plenty others, with similar stories. It's not easy to recognize that we all have self-improvement to do and an even harder road to make a change. I am so proud for all of you who have embraced the opportunity Stanstead has given you to grow.

Any team has a lot of pieces to its puzzle in order to make it work and be successful. Therefore, my last thank you goes to the biggest piece of our puzzle Coach V.

Words simply do not do justice for how much Miss V has given to this program and players. Lou Holtz College Hall fame football coach said: "I won't accept anything less than the best a player's capable of doing, and they have the right to expect the best that I can do for them and the team"

Coach V. without a doubt gave you all her all each and every day to make you the best person and player you could possibly be, whether it was by pushing you on the ice, giving you the best practices or by telling you what you needed to hear but didn't want to and holding you accountable on and off the ice. She knew what it took for you to reach your goals and trust me when I say no one wanted your dreams to come true more than Miss V.

The accomplishments of this group of players are unmatched by any other team I have coached. While our success did not manifest itself in championship trophies in our league or at the national tournament, the quality and speed of play and the adaptability of the core group of this team epitomized a standard of play that I have not seen from any group I have ever coached. Significant wins against New England prep school best KUA and top echelon SAC were wins that put Stanstead College hockey in the midst of the best in North America. Our best players led the way with offensive output throughout the year, the likes this program has not seen in recent history. The leadership and vision of our captains kept us on course the entire year and play-making ability of the team as a whole proved that our approach and development is best seen when great players come together. I felt comfortable against all of our opponents. This speaks volumes, as our schedule is now among the toughest it has ever been. I believe that the success we enjoyed this year will catapult this program to even greater heights in terms of attracting quality. I am excited for the opportunities that lie ahead and will be forever grateful for the quality of leadership this year's team had. The example set by Trevor Grasby in particular was the most impactful I have ever seen. Those leaving this program have quality opportunities ahead of them and should fondly look back at this year as the springboard to their future.

The 2017-2018 season was positive on so many levels. Our coaching staff benefitted from the opportunity to work with amazing young men every day on and off the ice. With such a strong core group returning to play with each other for a second season, and the addition of some new talented players, the team had more depth and potential than ever before. As a result, we finished the season with an overall record of 30-20-2-2.

Regardless of wins and losses, this young group made great progress throughout the year. Although we were always the youngest team on the ice, we developed a reputation for being a tenacious bunch who never ever backed away from anyone. Our ability to compete hard each and every night, while always playing with class is something I will always remember. It was an absolute pleasure to coach this team. Although we lost in our league playoff semi-finals, this team accomplished more than anyone ever imagined at the start of the season. Thank you for all of your efforts, gentlemen. Best to all of you moving on, and looking forward to working with all of the returning players next year. Thanks for a wonderful season, fellas.

Bantam Hockey

I have coached the Bantam hockey program for three years, and it pretty much continues to evolve. In my first year, we had 1/3 of the ice for practices, shared with the prep team. Second season, we had a mix of 1/3 of ice and full ice, still shared with preps. But this season, was it awesome to benefit from FULL ICE all season! Yes, it helped us a lot to improve and enjoy the game of hockey. In the 2015-2016 season, we played 10 games, with 3 wins, 2 ties and 5 losses. In my second year, the 2016-2017 season, we had 13 games: 3 wins, 3 ties and 7 losses. This current year, we played 19 games. Thank you Mr. Rioux for letting this program expand and evolve. We had an amazing team this year. In fact, it was like two teams in one. A senior roster, and a bantam/junior roster, players from Grade 7 to Grade 11. Not that easy to manage, but that has been possible because of Mr. Rioux, Mr. Vanasse, Mr. Sandersen and Mr. Varro. I want to thank them very much for all the knowledge, the passion and the dedication they brought to that team. We did well this season. 19 games: 12 wins, 2 ties and 5 losses. Thanks to all for you, the 24 players, who worked hard, who committed to this beautiful sport and who were part of the team. A special thank you and good luck to Hidenobu Kaga for those great three years of hockey, and also to a few senior players who will not be allowed to play Bantam in Grade 12: Patrick Young, Timothy Smith, Patricio Tamayo, Olivier Daniel, Mackenzie Dias-Leclerc and Mathieu Duval-Sotto. I also want to thank each and every player. I think we had a positive experience, and you are a big part of that. Good job, Spartans!

Basketball

At the risk of making a self-fulfilling prophecy, I am confident that I will never again coach a team as dominant as these 2017-2018 Spartans.

To begin with, the raw numbers are staggering. We were crowned champions at the SIT, the BCS Invitational, the MIS, and the Bailly Small Schools Provincials. We won the ETIAC League Banner and the Playoff Trophy. We met two AAA club teams during the season and beat them both. We played 41 games, winning 37 of them. After starting the year 7-4, we finished the season on a 30-game win streak(!); of those 30 games, 28 of them were decided by 20 pts or more. And finally, for the second straight year, we grabbed the ultimate brass ring at the MacLeod Provincials. Complete domination, like I'd never experienced. An endless succession of high-fives, victory celebrations and medal presentations.

But it's not the actual wins that I will remember the most. Instead I will remember the answers to two questions: why and how.

WHY were we so insanely good? Experience. This season taught me that the cliché is true; there is no substitute for experience. Six of our players had played basketball for at least eight years each. Huge advantage. But even more importantly, this was Mackenzie's third year at Senior, and both Chloe's and Rina's fourth year. The core of the team had a combined 11 years(!) of experience playing together on the same team at the highest level. When that happens, you get a team with an absurdly high basketball IQ. A team that understands the game, the flow, the angles, the rules, the situations, the subtleties, like no team I'd ever coached. The players didn't just execute strategy, they understood WHY, and took ownership of what we were trying to do as a team.

And HOW did we dominate like this? Because the girls played unselfish, beautiful basketball. As Gregg Popovich says, they were always "giving up a good shot to get a great shot." It was about the team, never about the individual. New players bought into their roles, no matter what those roles were. And returning veterans who were first options on offense last year took way fewer shots this year. Every single player did what was asked of them, with no ego, and the results were a joy to watch. Yes, you need the aforementioned basketball IQ to move the ball the way we moved it this year, to see all the angles, to know where your teammates are going to be, but you also need the will to make that pass, the unselfishness. This team, improbably, had both. And the results speak for themselves.

Finally, a message to our graduating players, Rina and Chloe. Don't ever forget what you helped build. Your journey started four years ago as 9th-graders. There were tough losses the first two years, but you used those losses to get better, you grew up, then you became leaders, and for the last two years you've been the face, the heart and the soul of the most successful era in SC basketball history. Thank you for all you've given to the program. We will never forget you!

The mantra heading into this season was simple: GET BETTER! My goal as a coach has always been to be better at the end of the season than we were at the start, both individually and as a team. If I am to be completely honest with all of you, this doesn't always go exactly according to plan. While we had a few proverbial bumps in the road along the way, I believe our season-long journey arrived at a place that each and every member of this team can and should be proud of. Our participation in two leagues plus several tournaments produced an extensive and demanding schedule. Often tired and playing on shaky legs, we managed to dig deep and put forth all that we were capable of each time we hit the court. For my guys, it was never an option to hit the quit button and above all else, this is what makes me so proud of this group of young men.

Unfortunately, success in sport is too often defined by how many wins you accumulate. While we had our fair share of wins and were competitive in almost every game we played all season long, in the eyes of some we may have left a few too many wins out there on the table. However, I believe we were a successful team and I know in my heart that we are better now than when we first stepped on the floor in early November.

On a closing note, I would just like to offer up my congratulations to MY senior boys and all of the other athletes who have represented Stanstead College with pride and passion and have gotten BETTER as a result.

Michael Jordan, one of my favorite basketball players, said three quotes that I believe define OUR basketball team.

#1: "Some people want it to happen, some wish it would happen, others make it happen."

The beginning of the season was really hard. We lost a lot of games. In the first game away after the first quarter in Massey, I called a timeout after only 45 seconds because we were losing by 6 points. Yes, the other team scored 3 baskets in 45 seconds. I told the girls: "Why are you so scared?" Ana Sofia answered, "Because we lost against them 10-1 in soccer." I was shocked and I said, "I don't understand. It's not the same sport." I mean, the other team was not even that good! Believe it or not, we beat them by 3 in this game even though we were down by 10 at half. OUR special and unique team spirit showed up and we fought until the end of the game. This truly captures OUR season....

#2: "I can accept failure. Everyone fails at something. But I can't accept not trying."

Each team member had a moment where they felt like giving up. Camilla claimed she didn't know how to play, but then she would shoot a basket. Or Sam saying she never shot a three-pointer in her life and just making it. A large reason for a few losses was due to our injuries. At one point, more than half of the team were unable to play, but I was so proud because everybody tried their hardest, and that was all I cared about.

#3: "Talent wins games, but teamwork and intelligence win championships."

While we didn't win any championships this season, I can tell you that this team with a little more experience and time to understand the game could win. Ladies, I hope you will always remember these three sentences from me. Charlotte, it is my favorite drill! If you don't know what to do run, and HAVE FUN.

Regarding the season, overall we learned a great deal. We had a diverse group of boys both in age and talent. I had boys from Grade 7 right through to Grade 10. Some had played, some had not. So we all got better together. The major highlight was the victory over Massey-Vanier in the BCS tournament and, for me, watching so many boys score their first basket.

I would like to recognise the following boys:

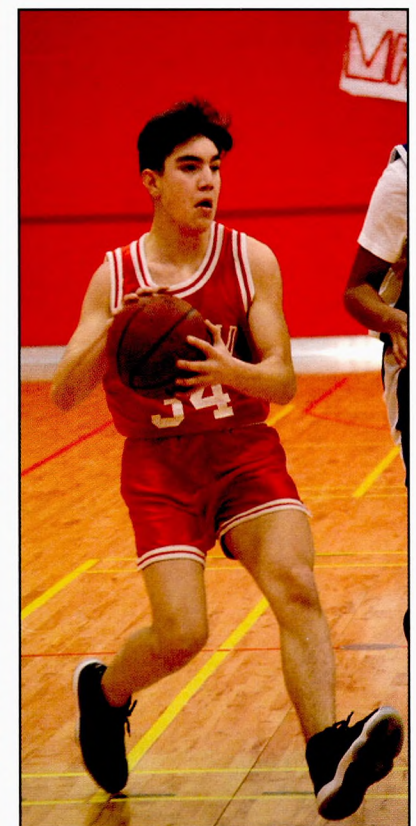

Kieran, TK, Pato, Emilio and Justin Bouchard, all relative rookies to the game. They practiced hard all season and improved significantly. They all got some much needed experience this year, and I appreciate their effort.

Estaban, Ba Nam, Fred, Sam and Hadley who made the transition to the much faster, much more organized and much more physical Junior level of basketball. Well done.

And Tyler, Big Justin and Leo. They were the engines who would grind out points, play hard on defence and always remain positive. They came with good skills, improved all year and made a significant impact on the court.

Well done, gentlemen!

Volleyball

The girls volleyball team had a very successful inaugural season. Starting out with 18 girls with a wide range of experience and ability proved to be a challenge at first. With hard work and great leadership, the team began to take shape. At the midpoint of the season, the girls began competing in exhibition games against BCS, La Ruche and Salésien. The first few matches taught the team a lot about the game and by the end of the season, the girls were competing in every match. The highlight was heading to Salésien and sweeping them 3 sets to zero. Next year the girls look forward to joining RSEQ league and building off what was an incredible first season.

Swimming

The Stanstead College Swim Team had a successful season. The team consisted of 11 members: Amanda De Grâce, Alex Bimm, Kim Lie Botton, Xinyu (Helen) Yao, Huiyuan (Selina) Yang, Yunyan (Joy) Zhao, Nurken Zhailaubay, Oscar Haase, Elisabeth Godbout, Simone Ruf, and Krystine Breton. We had a range of skill sets and abilities, and each member worked toward achieving and surpassing their goals. This year was slightly different as we added a dry-land practice each week, allowing students to improve their strength and cardio through circuit training. Three times per week, the team would travel to La Ruche Sports Centre in Magog to focus on increasing their speed and endurance, and perfecting their stroke. The season consisted of four meets to prepare students for the ETIAC finals in March, which would determine the final champions between Galt, Bishop College School, Massey-Vanier, and Stanstead College. Unfortunately, it was not possible for Stanstead to take home the trophy due to the size of our team, but each swimmer fought hard and swam their best race. Although small, the Stanstead College team was truly mighty and it was a pleasure to coach these bright minds and hardworking swimmers.

Years from now – when you are reading this yearbook, you'll be laughing at these four months we spent together. Sometimes the practices felt too long, and most times the games rushed by too quickly. You will not remember the wins and losses, but you will remember each other, your friendships and smiles when you think of it. I thought I would refresh your memory with a few things you might forget – and some you might want to remember.

Things you can probably forget

- Burpees - Long waits for away games - Losing games
- Losing jump balls - Passing to the other team - Forgetting your sneakers & searching for peacoats, passports, white socks, hair ties, hat & mitts - Basketball fingers - sprained ankles - probably everything I said

Things you will want to remember

- Tere's amazing 3 pointer
- Helen's beautiful rebound put-backs
- Shu's ninja steal @ BCS
- Crystal's jumpshots
- Corali doing the splits (and always jumping back up)
- Karen never crossing 1/2 court in our ultimate games
- Elisa's sneaking walking when I wasn't looking
- Loraly popping up from nowhere to steal and being surprised by the ball
- Sage & Ella trying to out-scream each other
- Alicia looking very nice and friendly just before she rips the ball away from you
- Iris's rebounds @ Rotary tournament and hilarious, uncontrollable sense of humour.

One final piece of advice: never dribble into a corner. Thanks for the memories.

The senior boys rugby team had an outstanding 2018 season. With phenomenal veteran leadership and very talent rookies, they took off to New Brunswick after only two weeks of practice to compete in Rugbyfest. After 5 difficult matches, Stanstead went undefeated and brought home the banner. They continue on this path of success by competing in the GMAA 7s tournament in Montreal where they beat last year's champions Loyola High School in the round robin and defeated a very talented CVR high school in the finals in overtime. The following day the boys suited up for yet another gruelling day of rugby in Sherbrooke at the Abenakis 7s tournament. Through perseverance and sheer will they held off every opponent, winning the finals comfortably against Seminaire de Sherbrooke. In league play, the Spartans won all four contests and secured the ETIAC league banner. Their final task was to defeat Alexander Galt in the semi finals and an hour later, capped off the perfect season by beating BCS and claiming the playoff trophy. In 21 matches played, the Spartans went 21-0. The undefeated season was impressive but the way the team came together, worked for each other and stood by one another is what every spectator and player should be proud of. It was a season that will surely be remember for years to come.

This junior boys team was pumped and ready to go early on. Before March break, their stated ambition was to win every single game. Winning every single game is tough. We have an ETIAC league to play in now and teams have gotten good. But this team had something other teams didn't, and that was experience. That made a difference. We started out strong and clinched the ETIAC banner early on, but lost in the final of the GMAA 7s, so our unbeaten season died at that point. May break is a real momentum killer. Upon our return, we traveled up to Galt and scraped our way past them, and then we played Massey-Vanier and had a melt-down. It was not a pretty sight. But losing is where the lessons are, and as a coach it was the perfect time. The banner was already ours and the playoff was the following week. Fortunately, we learned our lesson, and we pummeled the BCS team in the semi and had our revenge against Massey-Vanier in the final to win the playoff trophy.

We worked on determination, execution, passion and sheer love of the game. Congratulations on your season, what you accomplished and the way you did it.

Have you met Tyrone? Here's a picture of him to the left. He looks happy now, sitting on his throne which is the ETIAC Playoff Championship Cup! He wasn't always happy... his story is our story.

When we first got together as a team in the early month of April, there was snow on the ground and we practiced in the gym. It quickly became evident that this was possibly one of the worst teams I had ever coached. Not being mean, just keeping it real. We could not pass or catch a ball, much less pass to a moving target. There were balls on the ground all over the place. It was a disaster. Until...

My wife said, "Why don't you use a baby?" Genius.

I brought a baby to the very next practice. I substituted the ball with the baby. Girls said, "What are we supposed to do with this?"

I said, "Pass it! You're a bad person if you drop a baby!"

Worked like a charm. Next thing you know, the baby has a name, even a name change, a backstory, a Mexican step-mom. He was even resuscitated when Simone performed CPR on him in practice. He became our team mascot travelling in my coach's bag to all our games.

You see, the thing is, Tyrone is a metaphor for our team. We started our season at The GMAA 7s tourney in Montreal where we promptly got killed. Losing every game by 40 or 50 points. It was bad. Like Tyrone, we needed CPR to be brought back to life!

But then, we got to work. Lyanne and I developed a strategy to improve our team surely and steadily day by day. We went to our first league tourney and won 2 games and lost 1. Second league tourney where we won 1 and lost 1. Third league tourney where we won 1 and tied 1. Fourth league tourney where we won all 3 games. By season's end, we had won 7 out of 10 games which put us in third place in our league. Semi-final: we beat the second place Massey Vanier team. This put us in the final for the championship. It is very rare at our school for junior and/or bantam girls to be in this position. The junior girls are the smallest demographic at our school. That means there are very few of them and not all of them play rugby. We essentially take anyone who shows up to play rugby. Not all of them are athletes but they play anyway. It's actually a beautiful thing at our school. Rugby is the game that has a role for anyone and everyone. It's amazing. I love the game. It really is a unifying game.

Final: we were playing the league champions Richmond Regional High School who had a stud player on their team. This girl had a mean step on her and if she got into any space, she would score. We had to stop her. Lyanne and I practiced how to stop her the day before. We put a pinney on one of the girls and said, "She is their #5. We are double-teaming her with Loralyn and Ella who are our best tacklers. We need you two girls to track her all day and every time she touches the ball, she gets hit! She needs to feel you." It worked. We frustrated them. We ended up tied and the difference in the game was the kick which Julia Balingier made in the dying minutes of the game.

Champions! ETIAC Playoff Champions! You girls are champions and this is our Cinderella story. This is Tyrone's story. He had a rough start in life but he made it. So did we.

Congratulations to our award winners, you know who you are.

I must say that comparing to the other teams this season, I felt a twinge of disappointment in how my team had fared. And then I thought about all of the positives that happened over the course of our season, and how each player improved at least one aspect of their game: Alex Campbell making his first par; Amousse making his first birdie; Charles breaking 100 for the first time in a tournament. My disappointment was gone. While winning is nice, sometimes the little things in life are more important.

I am proud of every one of you and hope that you all enjoyed your season. You played well, you all worked to improve your game, and you all learned something. Some learned humility, some learned that frustration and anger do not belong on the golf course, and some learned life lessons. And some simply learned that it is not a good thing to eat too much at Wood's. But I think you all learned that while golf is challenging, it is also something that you can play and enjoy for decades to come.

At our tournaments, you were good competitors, you all challenged yourselves, you were a lady and gentlemen on the course and you represented your school with class and with true Spartan spirit. You have all developed a passion for the game and I sincerely hope that you all continue to play.

We had a short but exciting season with an actual ETIAC league with six games, including the semi-final and the final against Alexander Galt and BCS. We beat Galt three times, which got us to the final, but we lost against BCS three times in an intense and challenging rivalry. We also played six non-ETIAC games, including four at the start of the season at the Crestwood Tournament in Peterborough, Ont and two at the Galt Tournament at Bishop's University against Collège Brébeuf, a very skilled and experienced team, and a Longueuil high school team named Gérard-Fillion. Despite too many losses, our average is improving, and we are building a winning spirit by experiencing difficult games against strong teams.

I truly hope that the 13 players we had this year did learn from this season and will come back stronger next year. I want to thank them so much for their courage. It is not easy to compete when you are out-numbered and much less experienced than your opponents. It takes courage, it takes determination, and even if we all know that we are supposed to learn more when facing adversity, it is actually not easy to face it, but it is certainly a crucial reality in sports, and in life: you don't always win.

I hope that we can reach a line-up of about 20 players next year in order to extend and improve our program. Lacrosse is a popular sport in many places, just beside us, and I sincerely wish that this sport will continue to be encouraged at Stanstead College.

We were an incredibly strong team this year. Mr Williams and Mr. Prevost wish to thank our tennis players for their dedication and hard work. There was a poem read aloud at assembly. Track

This was the first track team at Stanstead College in 23 years. Coincidentally, we had 23 members on the team. Thanks to our outstanding assistant coaches Dugie Ross with distance runners and Natasha Mosdosy with hurdlers. Track is about setting individual goals and trying to improve on them in each practice and in each contest. We had two invitational meets, one in mid-May and one at the end of May. Among six teams in mid-May, Marianne Picard had a first- and second-place finish running in senior events as a junior; Julia McLennan had a second-place finish and James Chadwick a third-place finish. At the end of May invitational, the girls team finished 4th of 18 teams. The team hopes to expand into field events as the interest and commitment grows in future years. Thanks to all participants in 2018!

Softball

Softball has always been a sport that I enjoy playing, coaching and watching others play. Intramural softball is an excellent opportunity for students to be active, have fun and learn the game.

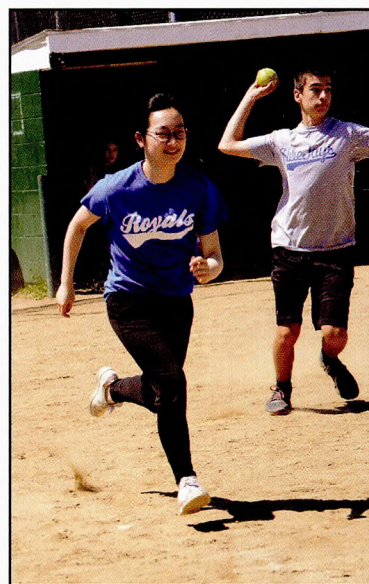

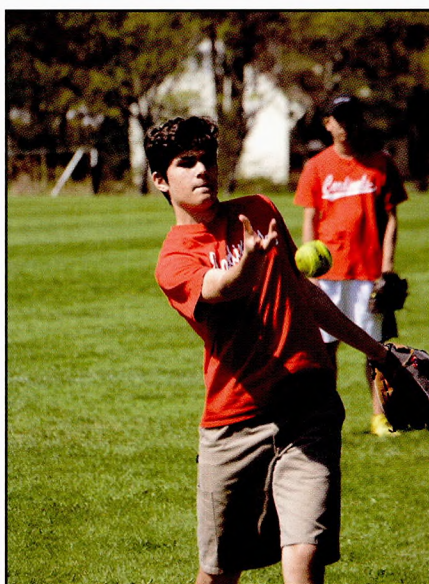

This year we had 59 players over 4 teams: the Expos, Royals, Blue Jays, and Cardinals. Ms. Benizri and I had students who had never played softball before, returning students from last year, and others who play softball outside of school.

What I enjoyed the most about coaching softball was watching the more experienced players coach the less experienced players. I will always remember the little things: the exhilaration of someone scoring a home run, the frustration when someone struck out again, and the arguing with calls. I will also remember the funny things, most notably, Roy, who received the most original hour ever for not swinging when up to bat, and Andrew for getting hit with the ball two times in the same game.

During the regular season, the teams played 15 games. In 4th place, we have the Cardinals, with 1 win and 14 losses. In 3rd place, we have the Royals, with 6 wins and 9 losses. In 2nd place, we have the Expos, with 9 wins and 6 losses. In first place, we have the Blue Jays with 12 wins and 3 losses.

This year the standings changed after the playoffs. The Cardinals won their game in the consolation against the Expos to take 3rd place. The Blue Jays defended their title in the finals against the Royals.

As you leave Stanstead today make a point of grabbing the hand of those special teachers and coaches that made you better. Heck forget the hand! Hug them when you thank them and know, it's ok to cry. Passion is as much about tears as it is about smiles.

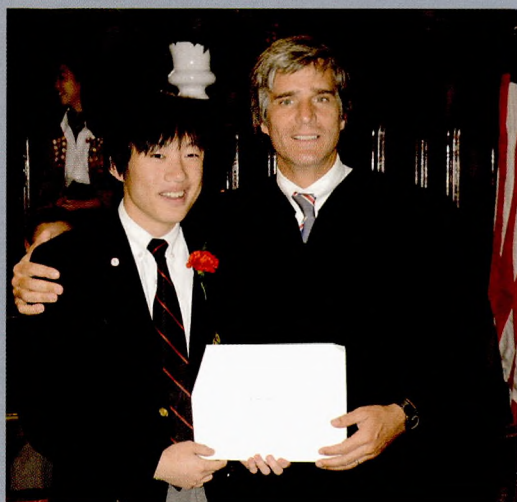

- Claudia Hess, Class of 1983, guest speaker

Apart from the education being based on family values, it focuses also on global views, respect for others and the environment among others and it reflects today's global values in a very interconnected society. I am sure, students will continue being a part of Stanstead College when they are alumni, that the doors will always be open for them and that the graduates who are going to spread their wings and fly out into the world today, can always find a welcoming nest here.

- Andrea Schmitt, mother of Jessica Lozano Schmitt

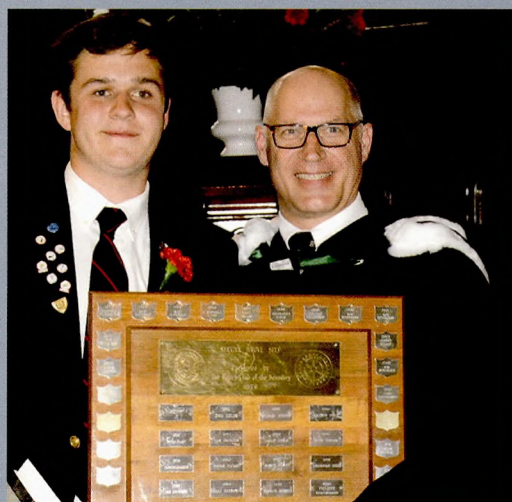

It's not easy to graduate from Stanstead College. We ask for a tremendous amount from you and there are no shortcuts or magic formulas. You've completed a long and difficult journey. That is a testament to your strength and resilience and to that of your parents and families. We're very happy that all of you made it. You're now ready to go and face new challenges, ask new questions and solve new problems.
